Preparing boys for life

Dear PSA Community,

On behalf of all PSA Heads of Schools, I am delighted to be able to welcome you to the 2019 Head Of The River Regatta. This year marks 10 years of holding the Head of the River at Champion Lakes Regatta Centre.

The PSA represents many things to many people including sportsmanship, teamwork, participation, personal excellence and a promotion of service to others. These qualities are more important now than ever before. The PSA is and always has been far more than just sport. This is obvious given the lifelong connections that are made by our alumni as a result of competing in the PSA while at school.

The PSA provides many ideal opportunities for students to excel within their chosen sports and it is all of our hope that they will continue with their sports well beyond their last days at school. Of equal importance is the educational value of the wide variety of sports offered and the collegiality developed between our member schools. Our hope is that the graduates of PSA schools will view sport as just one of the many wellbeing activities worth taking into life after school.

I thank all of the coaches, teachers and families for the guidance, support and encouragement they offer all of our students.

Thank you to all of our communities and best wishes to all students participating.

Dr Alec J O'Connell

Everyone wins from good sportsmanship.

The sporting arena is a valuable training ground for life beyond school. It quickly teaches boys that success is only possible if they set aside differences and work together for the greater good. If the game doesn't go their way, despite their best efforts, it forges resilience and encourages self-reflection. Good sportsmanship brings out the best in every boy. It is a shared experience that helps bond a community for life.
